VOLUME 7
NUMBER 5

The course of collegiate publications is dictated by the smashing impact of "this day's most absent challenge." Telephone booths, stuffed to, above, and beyond capacity, faded into an era of sleepathons, drinkathons, doathons, quillathons, and everythingnotpreviouslyencompassedathons. Today, every editor is pointing his energies at something which bears a resemblance to practicality...though faint. This...the ESSAY CONTEST.....???????

THE DODO Sweetheart

Texas Western bears the nickname Miners... and in their lovely 20 year old coed Diane French their golden fortune has been gained. The comely El Paso gal has brightened many stages through her modeling exploits. And this same radiance has guided her to her selection as the DODO Sweetheart. Our thanks....

Writing for the DODO can be a trying task considering that it is supposedly directed at the collective funnybone of the Wing. The AFCW holds within itself a tremendous amount of wit - half and otherwise, but the point is well taken that the whole would be far better at composing an article than this somewhat small 1/2512 th.

Recently Cadets were asked to suggest names for the Polaris in the event that general sentiment in favor of changing the name was high. Generally, general sentiment was not high, discounting one squadron which looked with total disfavor on creative humor, the results were "great".

For your enjoyment, KEM presents possible new names for the Polaris as presented by USAFA.

Under the heading of Books, the following were found:

Color Book for Cadets
Golden Boys Book (altered to read)
Golden Book of Cadets
USAFA Reg Book (Supplement)
and of course - AFA Year Book

Another grouping of suggestions was found around the cage concept - like zoo, man!

Who's Who at the Blue Zoo
Zookeeper's Guide
Tractor Treads
Federal Funny Farm

Of course, the serious, professional, engineering types wanted a name which expressed the true nature of the place.

Aeronaut
Practical Applications of Aluminum, Abridged
On War
The Professional Killer

Quite a few of the better suggestions defy collectivization.

How to Succeed at Nothing w/o Really Trying	Buffers' Delight
The High and Mighty	What Every Young Girl Should Know
Baldachi's Ballads	Fast, Neat, Average, Friendly, Good, Good
Gone w/ the Chinooks	This is Your Cadet Wing
Ribald Classic

The final category infers a religious nature.

Leaky Spires
My Chapel's Got a Hole in It
Life in a Monastery (Illustrated)
My favorite is found here (my favorite because I suggested it)
Annual Treatise on the Life and Customs of the Monks of the Metal Monastery

Many thanks to the Staff of the North Star and especially Del Miller for the stuff of the sign-up lists. A bigger thanks to you, TAFOW, for your genius.

THE BLUE ZOO

The old sheep-herder planted his staff on the side of the hill, and, gazing down on the scene before him, he muttered to himself, "Me-thinks 'tis some form of confine for beasties (he had been in the hills for quite some time)." Then, settling down amongst the fold to observe the action that was going on below, he was heard to remark, "Judging from the colour of their raiment, I shall be-take it upon meself to christen this place of utter wonder the Blue Menagery." At that same moment, the black cloud which covered the general area parted to reveal the face of God, and that face looked down upon the old sheep-herder and the campus, and God said "so be it," as was his habit.

Now history has seen fit to mutate the old sheep-herder's misnomer, but some of his die-hard descendants still refer to this place of utter wonder as the Blue Zoo. We, as the recipients of this title, should not be too hasty to deny its applicability, for where else can more bestial qualities be manifested into the human form. Think about it, and you will have to agree that our ideal is more of an animal than anything else. Well, even if you don't presently see the obvious truth, perhaps a few more issues of the DODO will convert you, for it is my avowed purpose to prove a worthless point. To the task of cataloguing the varied and rarely seen animal qualities found upon our tight little campus I now find my feeble talents religiously ascribed. Around this introduction you see the vague forms of those creatures which will be spot-lighted on a weekly installment basis. My deepest thanks go out to the courageous members of the DODO staff for giving so graciously of their charge that I may bring to the scientific world this someday-to-be-praised work. Lastly, my thanks to Jack "The Birdman of USAFA" Oskowis who has spent many hours hiding along muddy paths with a flashlight "at the ready" in order to capture the true posture of "the beast in us."

ALEXANDER MANSFIELD ROSS

As in the past, better conditioning and sharp teamwork paid off for the Falcon Soccer team as they easily downed CSU by a score of 7 to 1. Jim Renschen led the scoring with three goals, while Al Ross, Jim McComsey, Bill Hoilman and Jim Perry each chipped in one. Bill Hoilman, Jim Renschen, Al Ross and Don Heide played a particularly outstanding game according to Coach Bob Strickland. This week's game with Wyoming promises to be one of the season's toughest challenges as the Cowboys and CU were picked with the Falcons to be the three best teams in the Rocky Mountain area. With last week's 4-2 victory over CU, Wyoming became "the team to beat" and almost a must game in the race for the NCAA championship of this area.

The cross country team suffered its first defeat of the season by a score of 24-34 in a dual meet with West Point Saturday. Running on a wet and hilly five-mile course, Tom Cardoza and Dave Brown were the top performers for the Falcons, placing 2nd and 3rd respectively. As fate sometimes dictates in cross country running, the team as a whole had a poor day and they are expecting to reverse the outcome in their next meeting with WooPoo in November's NCAA Finals.

Flashy end play by Dick Brown, John Puster, and Frank Ralston, coupled with the backfield fireworks ignited by Dave Backus and Darryl Bloodworth in paving the way to a 25-20

Falcon victory over SMU in Dallas' Cotton Bowl. With that victory in the record books, the Big Blue squad now points its guns toward Arizona and the taming of the Wildcats. Ben Martin hints that ace passers Backus and Terry Isaacson may surpass last week's 21 aerials as the Falcons bid for victory number three. Air Force defenses will be keyed to slow the speedy backfield the victory-hungry Wildcats boast. GO...

Dots & Doodles

"A half-dozen plastic bags, please..."

Quote she: "When I let him steal a little kiss, I didn't know it would start a one man crime wave."

"We're going to give the bride a shower."

"Count me in. I'll bring the soap."

The local police received a call from an exited young lady. "A sex maniac just broke into my apartment," came the cry.... "Come and pick him up the first thing in the morning."

An enterprising sea gull had always wanted to own a car. Sooo, one fine day when he was feeling extravagant, he laid something down on a new convertible.

JOHNNY ( six years old ):
Daddy, the little girl across the street and I are going to get married.

DADDY: That's quite a step to take, son. What are you going to use for money?

JOHNNY: Her daddy built a playhouse with a garden for us to live in.

DADDY: Well, that's taking care of the housing and eating problems. But what about children? Have you thought about that?

JOHNNY: Oh yes, her and me have talked that over. If she lays any eggs, we're going to step on 'em.
